Are you curious about community-engaged scholarship?

Come hear three PhD students talk about their experiences working as partners with communities and organizations on research projects that build from community and academic knowledge.

You will learn how to implement engaged scholarship, connect with other engaged scholars, and advance your own work.

For more information and register through the University Events Calendar.

Featured Speakers

- Sean Nonnenmacher
  - PhD student
  - Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences, Department of Linguistics

- Abisola Olaniyan
  - PhD student
  - Graduate School of Public Health

- Meghan Orman
  - PhD student
  - School of Education

Moderator

- Amanda Godley
  - Vice Provost for Graduate Studies
  - Office of the Provost